Compatibility & Analysis

Why the overall result differs

The house-number method treats totals 4 and 8 as a property-specific caution. That overall house rule can apply even when an individual Pilot or Attendant check is neutral. The displayed result has not been changed.

Pilot Compatibility

Neutral

Attendant Compatibility

Neutral

Your active house number 805 reduces to 4.

Note: Do not hide or remove an official address number. If the number cannot be changed, keep it clearly visible for safety and deliveries, and use only practical, non-structural Vastu support after manual review.

Number Correction Advice: If practical for a new property, prefer house totals 1, 5, 6 — these are already filtered against your Pilot and Attendant numbers.

Vastu Guidance

House number numerology is one layer. Full Vastu also checks entrance direction, light and air flow, kitchen and toilet placement, bedroom sector, water source, and slope.

Use Vastu-based practical corrections first where possible. If the chart, entrance zone, or property layout shows repeated caution, a full Vastu check is recommended.

Premium Action Guidance

Use This

- Judge the active house or flat number first: 805 -> 4.
- For a new property, prefer house totals 1, 5, 6 (filtered for your chart) if they also fit practical location, budget, light, and layout.
- Use simple Vastu corrections first: clean entrance, bright center space, clutter control, and balanced bedroom placement.

Avoid This

- Do not ignore serious Vastu faults just because the house number is friendly.
- Do not make structural changes without checking safety, ownership rules, and professional advice.
- Avoid choosing a property only from number total; entrance, kitchen, toilet, light, and water placement matter too.

Next Steps

- If the number is good but life still feels blocked, review the Vastu zones next.
- If the number is weak but the property is otherwise strong, use practical Vastu support instead of panic-changing the home.
